EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

WOMAN AND THE HOME

DOMESTIC HELPS AND AIDS TO HOUSEWIVES

The young lady across the way says she shoul dthink if Mr. Carnegie really wanted to die poor he'd retire from business and let someone else ulld the libraries.

it was recently announced, would as-sist in the work of organizing the was created a Companion of the Bath munition and gun manufacturing plants in Canada, has been chief superintendent of the Royal ordnance factories at Woolwich for a dozen years. He is in his sixtieth year, a son of the late Sir Stuart Alexander Donaldson, who was the first Premier of New South Wales. After completing his education at at Eton. Cambridge, and the universities of Edinburgh and Zurich, he became an engineer, and for a time was employed on destruction work by the London & Northwestern railway. In 1884 he went out to India, and for three years was employed on the railway and harbor construction at Goa. He returned to England in 1887, when his services were enlisted on the Manchester ship canal. From 1892 to 1897 he was chief engineer of the London India docks. He entered the service of the government in first Premier of New South Wales.

d the service of the government in 1898 as deputy director general of

SIR FREDERICK DONALDSON. | ordnance factories, and later became chief mechanical engineer, and in Sir Hay Frederick Donaldson, who, 1903 was made chief superintendent Denmark. tory where experiments for the im-provement of all kinds of explosives are constantly being carried on.

The Allan liner Pomeranian, Montreal for London, which went ashore off Havre, was refloated.

JUST ARRIVED, FRENCH AND DUTCH BULBS JOHN RECK & SON.

A different type of one-piece frock is this model of submarine blue cloth, with vest, cuffs and girdle of plaid silk. There is a shoulder yoke, and the collar is sacrificed to dainty ruffles of lace which outline the neck. Either a turn-down or high collar may be used, however. There are many inexpensive ma-terials in which this model may be reproduced; in average size it requires 81/2 yards 54-inch cloth, with 1 yard inch silk for the trimming.

of lace. A pretty feature of the trim-ming is the bib front.

At least five sections of the pattern must be laid on the lengthwise fold of the goods to be cut properly, the pur-pose being to avoid seams and gain a graceful line for the dress. The front gore, collar, back and front are the parts so arranged. A sixth section is the trimming piece, in case it is used.

Opposite the front gore, along the selvage edge, is placed the belt. To the right of this comes the back gors, one edge of which rests on the lengthwise fold and the other along the selvage. The section is placed on a lengthwise thread of material, however. The sleeve, cuff and side front come next, all on a lengthwise thread. After the tions are pinned carefully into place cut out and put aside until ready for

If the square neck is to be used it will be necessary to cut off the upper edge of the front on double small "o" perforations. Similar perforations are provided for shortening the sleeves and affect the simple shades which yet bave plenty of depth and richness about them. Black and white effects are much in favor, while blue, always popular and serviceable, is seen in many shades, and the beautiful tones

Pictorial Review Costume

Sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches

These Home Dressmaking articles are prepared especially this newspaper from the very latest styles by The Pictorial

A HAT FOR MANY OCCASIONS THAT ALSO HAS STYLE

This modish hat has a narrow tilted brim from which mount folds of black velvet intersected with a bird of iri-Drooping gracefully forward is a black ostrich plume of ceptional grace.

PRINCE VALDEMAR. WHO MIGHT HAVE

CHANGED COURSE OF WAR become a monarch but refused the profered honor, was born fifty-seven years ago today, the youngest of the children of King Christian IX. of has derived from the entertainment light mechanical engineer, and illight was made chief superintendent of ordnance at Woolwich Arsenal. He of Battenberg, who had been chosen of Battenberg, who had been commensurate with her worry.

It's a mistake to think the girl in the department store is worrying and thinking whether she will reach the height of the business ladder. More the liking the reach the liking the view of the store is worrying and the department store is worrying and the department store is worrying and the department store is worrying and the demar The Danish Prince Valley in the department store is worrying whole course of the present European matter how long or how many are the war might have been changed, for there is little doubt that he would have sided with the Allies. He is a cret. ried Princess Marie in 1885, shortly before he was offered the Bulgarian throne. She died in 1809. The couple had five children, four sons dom or never comes to pass. and a daughter. Prince Valdemar's eldest son. Prince Aage, married the Countess Calvidi Bergolo, daughter of MISS LIBBEY'S REPLIES the late Italian minister to Denmark Before his marriage to the Italian roman Prince Aage had to renounce all rights to the succession to the Danish throne, for himself and his its to America in his capacity high officer of the Danish navy

> · JUST ARRIVED, FRENCH AND DUTCH BULBS JOHN RECK & SON.

THIS NEEDS YOUR ATTENTION

BUY YOUR FUR TRIMMINGS HERE

We have an attractive line of Fur Skins, Trimmings, Heads and Tails and Muff Beds.

The 1915-1916 Stylish Fur Muffs and Neck Pieces Are In.

If your FURS need to be Repaired, Remodeled or Restyled-BRING THEM HERE.

Fashionable Furrier Tel. 1304-4. 34 Post Office Arcade

Copyrighted, 1913, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

LAURA JEAN LIBBY'S DAILY TALKS ON

SECRET WORRIES OF SOME

I wonder did you ever count The value of one human fate; Or sum the infinite amount Of one heart's treasures and the weight

SINGLE WOMEN.

Of Life's one venture, and concentrate purpose of a soul E'en Love has daily perils such As none foresee and none control; And hearts are strung so that one touch, Careless or rough, may jar the whole."

The woman who arm of a husband to lean upon often imagines worries that have existed in the past and never will exist in the future. Many an entertainment the single woman would like to go to of an evening, but hesitates because she has no male escort. If she is sufficiently independent to make her way to the aforesaid place of amusement, she must stand in line with the men, while the dainty women these aforesald men have escorted stand back, out of the throng, which is pushing and scrambling to secure the best attention at the box office window.

The ticket seller, nine times out of ten, gives the lone young woman the poorest seat he has to dispose of. There is but one drawback to her enforment of the entertainment—the worry over the lateness of the hour when it will be over, and if she is to reach home in safety. She must walk four lonely blocks after she leaves the Prince Valdemar of Denmark, who street car. The people in the audience, was once offered the opportunity to she believes, seem to single her out

When Prince Alexander has not been commensurate with her brother of Dowager Queen Alexandra Many such dreamers are not des-of Great Britain and the Dowager tined to become wives, have mothers-Empress of Russia, and married a in-law to contend with or children to served in the Union army during the of itself. During business hours she mixture on the street stantine of Greece, the late King Joying the relaxation of pleasure. She George of the Hellenes having been does not worry about a man, having his brother. Prince Valdemar mar- faith to believe if the good Lord has one in store for her He will send him before he was offered the Bulgarian along. She won't have to exert her-throne. She died in 1809. The your letters, Correct name and cut thin, upon the top. heirs, the latter to be Counts or Countesses of Rosenborg. Valdemar is a sailor prince, and has spent much sure attention. Initials printof his life on board the warships of ed. Write short letters on one Denmark. He has paid several vis-side of paper only. Use ink. Personal letters cannot be an-Prince Valdemar is the uncle of the present king of Denmark, Christian X.

TO YOUR LETTERS

Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

TWO SWEETHEARTS-

ONE NEVER KISSES

Dear Miss Libbey:-I am a young man of 22. Was gong with a girl of 21. Now I am leavloves me; would like to marry. But sherbet gl one of 21 kisses me every time we meet. From girl of 16 I never yet had a kiss. Please advise which one is

Your love for one will help you to decide. It's hardly fair to love both girls at same time. It might turn out better if you wed the one of 21. She knows her own mind. Her affection may be deeper for you, and she is possessed of wisdom. Girl of 16 may prove changeable. Naturally, might turn to man her own age later

WIDOWER'S SECOND WIFE JEALOUS OF CHILDREN

Dear Miss Libbey:-

You will aid me, I am sure. I was married four years to a widower, 16 years my senior. He has two children. He and I have a little girl two years old. His first are images of their mother. He thinks more of them than mine. He treats former ones finely. Steps behind door, kisses them. They sauce me. He excuses them. If baby gets in mischief he whips or scolds it. He helps them; never alds me. Seems afraid he'll hurt first children's feelings. We get angry; have words about the children. He told me I could go, but never his children. I am jealous of these attentions. Should a wife be first in every-thing? I love husband dearly; try to please him. I teach children very best I know. Dress them nice. Want when steam them to be good so baby will grow up tive power. with and like them and they will love one another. They tell untruths. Husband says: "Let it go at that" Want Ads. One Cent a Work. Did my husband really love me, or sloned officers and men.

I am at my "vow's end," a wreck from heartache and worry. Did he forget his first wife? He seldom kisses me or puts his arms about me. Awaiting your true advice.

"Course of true love never runs smooth." Patience, hope for best will bring you happiness. Be determined to make children love you. All have faults. Your husband will prove to be grateful, if you change your home into love of each. Look at the bright side of your devotion. Husbands become lovers by tact and sweetness. Try the golden rule.

YOUTHS AND GIRLS AT ENTERTAINMENTS

Dear Miss Libbey :-

As a steady reader, do aid, please, Which should speak first if boys and girls meet at gatherings or on the street? What is a girl to say if a boy asks to see her home, or escort her to a gathering and she expects his company? How old should a boy be to tip his hat at the girls? How is a girl to draw boy's attention?

LONELY L. G. 1-If both meet, girl bows and youth generally speaks first. 2-Answer, "yes, thanks," to his request. Boy at all ages tips his hat to 3-A girl simply has to be sweet and ladylike to attract boys, and the respect of all.

CORNER FOR COOKS

of whipped cream may be served on the top of each plate of soup.

TOMATO SOUP.

one-half

One quart tomatoes,

pint of cold water. French woman, the brilliant and fa- coax or scold. The wise girl, healthy soda, one tablespoon sugar, pinch of mous Princess Marie of Orleans, of mind, lives in the present, and lets salt, four olives, suet, pepper and salt, daughter of the Duc de Chartres, who the future with its worries take care mix well with the eggs; spread the American civil war. Prince Valde attends strictly to her calling. After curely; place in a sed paper and mar is also an uncle of King Con- it is over, she gives herself up to enhour.

LEMON CHEESE CAKES.

the juice of two lemons and mix them with three sponge biscuits, six ounces of fresh butter, four ounces of sifted sugar, a little grated nutmeg and pounded cinnamon, half gill of cream and three eggs well-beaten; work them with the hand and fill the pans, which must be Miss Libbey's answers to or three slices of candied lemon peel, > BANANA SALAD. Cut the bananas in half lengthwise and serve on lettuce with a mayon naise and a few chopped nuts.

LEMON JELLY.

Dissolve half a box of gelatine in half ac up of cold water for five min-Add a cup of sugar, two cups of boiling water and a cup of lemon juice. Pour into a wetted mold to

CANTALOUPES WITH WHIPPED CREAM.

Only perfectly flavored ripe melons will answer for this dish, which is ing her, as I go with another girl of very delicious when the melons are 16. Would like to marry one of them, good. Chill them, then cut in halves good. Chill them, then cut in halves don't know which would be best. The and remove seeds. Scoop out the one 21 loves me better. One of 16 meat with a tablespoon and pile in sherbet glasses. Sprinkle with sugar and top with whipped cream. Serve

ERIE CANAL.

The first beats left Buffalo by the Erie canal ninety years ago today, Oct. 26, 1825, and thus inaugurated the greatest work of internal improvement in the United States prior to the building of the transcontinental railway. For years the Hudson river, the Erie canal and the Great Lakes constituted the great thoroughand the Great Lakes constituted the great thoroughfare of travel between New York and the Northwest. Buffalo the passengers embarked on boats which carried them to Chicago and other points in the then undeveloped west. The canal boats were very slow and offered what would now be considered very poor accommodations, but they represented the acme of speed and luxury in the period following the completion of the 363-mile canal and the coming of the rallway. The Eric canal originally cost $7,602,000, but that sum represents but a fraction of the money since spent in enlargement, improvement and maintenance. The building of the canal shortened the time from Albany to Buffalo from twenty days to ten days, and the cost of carrying freight from Buffalo to New York was reduced from $100 per ton to $10, and later to $3. Horses were used to propel the canal boats until 1871, when steam was introduced as a mo

British casualties since Oct. 1, total

THE OLD RELIABLE

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

MADE FROM CREAM OF TARTAR

TODAY'S POEM

ASPIRATION.

Yonder a sail flies to the burning And here a silver moth, with frightened grace,

Circles my lamp, and there upon the dune A lover looks into his lady's face.

too, have wings that struggle into flight. Blind as the white moth at the lantern's bars, too, drawn by that yearning for the light, Have sent my soul to beat against the stars!

The mariner will never touch the moon, The moth will die; and love against love's eyes

Will search in vain for some perennial June . As I will search in vain for Para-

if trod,

heav'n, Old failures shine upon the face of off, and every team in that circuit God.

Dana Burnet in Harper's Magazine.

LITTLE BENNY'S

NOTEBOOK By Lee Pape

and Me and my cuzzin Artie was going after a few weeks. Dick then landed an alawn today and we saw a lot of lit-Grate the rind of three and take to watch them, Artle saying, How With the Stogies he made a great in a dark hole. it up ware its lite if it aint got butter with the Cincinnati Reds. awn it, I sed get rite awn top of them, are carrying burdens 10 times bigger than they are themselves, and you big boys coodent carry this sootcase a block, I admit its not a lite sootcase, but jest think how hevry those blg peeces of bred must be to those little ants.

Aw, I bet I cood carry that sootcase as far as those ants cood carry those peeces of bred, sed Artie. I bet I cood, to, I sed.

Its awl very well to tawk, sed the man, but the proof of the pudding is in the eeting, and the proof of the sootcase is in the carrying, now jest to put you to the test and to see if you 2 big strawng boys are fit to be compared to those little ants, Ill aw-fer a prize of wun sent to wichevvir of you can carry this sootcase the fur-thest, who wunts to go ferst.

Me, sed me and Artie both togethir, and the man sed. Ill toss up the prize to decide. Wich he did, tossing up a sent and Artie saying tales and me tion he has played a great game, and saying heds, me winning, and I lifted has been the regular first baseman. up the sootcase and started to carry it, Artie and the man wawking in back of me, and it was a pritty hevvy sootcase, awl rite, and pritty soon my sootcase, awl rite, and pritty soon my arm felt as if it was coming awf and ital $200,000, opened for business.

I changed it to my uthir hand and pritty soon that arm felt the same way and I put the scotcase down. 3 blocks, not half bad. Im serprised, sed the man. Being Arties tern now, and he carried it 2 and a haff blocks and sed they were lawnger blocks than wat mine was, and we was argewing about who had carried it the ferthest and the man sed, Well, this is awl the farthir I go and heer comes my car, heers the prize, split it up, I declare the contest a draw. And he picked up the scotcase and sot awn a car with it and me and Artis stood. there rubbing our arms and looking at the sent the man had throo awn the pavemint and started to think that if enybody had asked us to carry a soot-case that far for a haff a sent we woodent of did it.

DICK HOBLITZEL, 26 TODAY. A NATIONAL LEAGUE CASTOPS

Dick Hoblitzel, first baseman of the world's champion Red Sox, will pass his 26th milestone today, having been born in Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 28, 1889. Dr. Richard is one of the rea-sons why the red-hosed bunch are basking in the limelight as the stellar baseball club of the habitable globe. Incidentally, whenever they think of Hobby, eight managers of National league clubs look about for And yet when sails are furled, like the nearest wall on which to bump wings at even, their beans, in the assurance that no And love lies dead upon the sands injury will result because of the onold desires shall light us into for said knobs. For Dick, as you may remember, is a National league cast-

Hobby broke into the professional ranks in 1907 with the Clarksburg, W. Va., club, where, for the purpose of preserving his social and amateur standing, he was known as Dick Hollister. The next year he was with the Reading team in the Union league, an outlaw circuit which had been widely advertised as a coming rival of the majors, but which went on the rocks tle ants carrying big pieces of bred league, but he lasted only three weeks down a hole, and we stopped and got in that company, and was then sent down awn the pavemint and started to Wheeling, in the Cantral league. wood you like to eet bred away down reputation as a first sacker and batted n a dark hole.

Not mutch. I dont even like to est the close of the 1908 season he landed became the regular first baseman of Wich I dont, and jest then a man she Cincinnati club, and swatted the came alawn carrying a big sootcase, pill for 308. From the first he was a good fielder and a strong hitter. Afwatched me and Artie watching the ants, and aftir a wile he sed, I trust you boys are profiting by the lessin that those little ants can teetch you.

Wat lessin, sed Artie. Wat lessin, sed Artie.

The lessin of persistents, sed the dinary in intelligence and education. man) heer those little ants, so small and that little mental lapse should not that there hardly vizibil unless you be held against him. Since then he be held against him. Since then he has recovered the full possession of his intellectual faculties, and the fact that he once wanted to pilot the Reds seems to him but bad dream. Last year the Cincinnati management decided that Hobby was no longer good enough for their cellar aggregation, and turned him, loose. Although at least four of the National league clubs needed first suckers, all of them waived on him, and Diek landed with the Red Sox. His acquisition was a great factor in the great race made by the Sox last year, for he batted at a .319 gait, and filled the weakest spot in the Boston infield. The development of Scott at short and the addition of Jack Barry at second base, added to Hobby's play at first, and with Lerry Gardner already pillar of strength at third, the Red With Boston Hobby has had his ups and downs, but as a general proposi tion he has played a great game, and although Carrigan has another star, Del Gainor, for that position.

Try this easy way to heal your skin with If you are suffering from eczema, ring worm or similar itching, red, unsightly skin affection, bathe the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, then gently apply a little Resinol Ointment. You will be astonished how instantly the interest of the stant of the the itching stops and healing begins. In most cases the skin quickly becomes clear and healthy again, at very